

Devon for Europe

Who are we?

Devon for Europe is a grassroots, non-party political organisation campaigning to ensure that the UK remains a full and active member of the European Union - one that champions peace, co-operation, economic and cultural prosperity, human and workers' rights and freedoms, and social and environmental protections. We are one of the many groups that form the national organisation, Britain for Europe.

What do we want to do?

Working with other affiliated local groups across the UK, we use traditional democratic means to achieve our aims - by ensuring that Parliament is fully involved in every stage of the process and that the British people get a final say on the negotiated deal, with the option of the UK remaining a full member of the EU. There is nothing undemocratic about asking for a People's Vote.

Isn't it all over?

No. While many voted to leave the EU, there is no mandate for any particular form of Brexit. Given that many of the promises made in the referendum are proving to be undeliverable, it is not clear if there is a majority for the kind of Brexit that will finally be on offer. People may, after all, prefer to stay once the true implications of the deal are there for all to see.

There is no deal better than the one we currently enjoy as members of the European Union and, as a nation, we are only just beginning to fully appreciate these benefits. The EU is not perfect but, by leaving, we lose so much more than we gain, including an important role in shaping its reform and future direction.
